Fairfield County Foundation Welcomes New Board Member

LANCASTER, Ohio -- The Fairfield County Foundation is pleased to announce that Molly Bates has joined the organization's Board of Trustees.

Bates, the assistant vice president and marketing director at Fairfield National Bank, brings a wealth of experience to the Foundation board. She has served the AHA! Children's Museum board in multiple capacities, including a term as board president and involvement with the capital campaign and building committees. In addition, she served as board member and past president of the American Red Cross of Fairfield County, and member and past president of Fairfield Medical Center TWIG 14. Bates is a Lancaster High School graduate who continues to be actively involved through the Lancaster Golf Parent Group and as the Treasurer for the LHS Academic Boosters. She continued her education at Ohio University, where she earned a BS in Organizational Communication in 1988.

"The Foundation is pleased to welcome another great community leader to our Board of Trustees," said Amy Eyman, executive director of the Fairfield County Foundation. "Molly will bring her own unique perspective about the community and we're looking forward to her contributions to the Foundation."

About the Fairfield County Foundation:
